World premiere of new improv show created by capital region following his dreams
August 1st, 8pm, 2022

Josh Romeo premieres his new improv show with the help of capital region theater artists on August 1st at the Sand Lake Center for the Arts. All of the musical and scenic improv is from the top of the performers heads based on suggestions from the audience! Think Who's Line is it Anyway but with local faces!

The Josh Romeo Show is a culmination of a lifelong dream of Romeo's. Romeo's love for improv started when he began taking classes with Sharon Paluch (who will be featured in the show) in the 6th grade. Since then Romeo has spent countless hours building improv in various communities. He was apart of the immersive improv experience "Tony and Tina's Wedding" with Consortium Actors in the summer of 2019, he spent a summer in Sandusky, Ohio as a character in "The Forbidden Frontier" their immersive improv attraction, and is the founder and president of “The Spin Cycle” Wagner College’s premiere improv troupe. Bringing improv to the community and world has always been a big passion of Romeo’s.

Romeo says “Throughout my years of performing I have made so many friends that I want bring together so we can all succeed. This is my main inspiration behind the creation of the show. Being able to have an improv show that could be whatever I wanted and get to perform it with my friends has been a lifelong dream of mine. The capital region is the only place I could think of to start this. I have been feeling a need to return to my roots and perform with life long friends and mentors. The show marks the beginning of a new exciting period in my life as it takes place on the night of my 21st birthday.”

The show will feature many performers from the capital region including Patrick White, Brian Sheldon, Sharon Paluch, Michaela Torres, and Keaton Poore as well as Charlie Rudalavage and Katrina Wischusen. Under Romeo’s guidance they will perform an evening of musical and long form scenic improv. Everything in the show will be created on the spot from the imaginations of the performers based on suggestions from the audience! Audience participation is not only encouraged, it’s necessary! Also, on the show date, an improvised musical podcast of the same name will be released to continue to expose people to the joyous art form of improv.

The Josh Romeo Show LIVE will be performed at The Sand Lake Center for the Arts in Averill Park. The doors will open at 7:30pm and the show will begin at 8:00pm. Tickets are free! Masks encouraged.
