

Playwriting for Teens

This course will cover the fundamentals of playwriting and use exercises and workshopping to help students begin transforming their original ideas into plays. Students will work outside of class to complete outlines and scenes, and bring them in for class readings and discussion. Both beginning playwrights and those with more experience are welcome.

Tuesdays 2:30 – 5 pm
at June 25 - July 30

Schenectady County Community College