

Will Par Productions announces a casting call for Men ages 45-60, Equity and Non Equity, union scale plus benefits, for rehearsals and performances.

Four Play, the Musical is a fresh, musical comedy written by Rick Wilson.

Four Play is a laugh yourself silly, true to life play, from the male point of view. Through snappy dialogue and humorous parodies, we discover what really makes men “tick”. Four College friends (circa 1970) experience forty years of growing older and possibly wiser. Using golf as a bonding agent, this endearing story of friendship also has a component about men’s health issues. This important health information is coated with levity and frivolity. This adult themed play is handled in good taste and is sure to please women and men alike. Many have said this is the male response to Menopause the play.

Cast:

Rick--a plus sized easy going corny, well liked guy. He is the glue to the group.

Three type A personalities:

Bob--a tall, stately no nonsense, high achiever, often the brunt of jokes.

Ed—a cynic, who prefers success, and is eager to find an easy way down that road.

Vinnie—a proud Italian, with a quick wit and an expert, at least in his own mind.

Ottsew Girl—20 something attractive co-ed, with a small part and a great solo.
