

$40 HR, VOICE OVER WORK

female, articulate, confident,

For systems animation in a documentary on the Education Industry.

Photograph copy below. Read one or both paragraphs as a voice memo. Email voice memo to producer@wehaveyourkids.com. I will get back to you promptly.

New York has imposed a 3.5% property tax cap vice. This is not a natural expectation for the 6% growth demanded by school unions, banks, insurance and Wall Street. The vice puts pressure on the district, to come up with 2.5% — TO CUT. Their solution — close poor kids schools — fire administrators to reap the fired employee's pay for the six percenters. The kids are poor, half Chatham's kids are on free or reduced lunch.

These little red houses represent the properties of the taxpayers of New York State. Every property owner receives a summons of a school tax bill. We're taught that this economic transfusion pays today's earnings for tomorrow's educated citizens. Local property taxes, extracted with the threat of taking one's house, withdraws from the taxpayer, a river of wealth, seventy-five percent of the corporate school budget. These funds flow through the local tax collector to that corporate monopoly, the Union School; represented here with a "U".

subject line: doc voice over

email

producer@wehaveyourkids.com

Thank you for your submission.